Kidnaping Charged In Girl Attack

Santa Anita Canyon Camp Employee Is Held On Two Serious Charges

Waldo Stump, 31, employee of a mountain camp on Sturtevant Trail, Big Santa Anita Canyon, was in county jail today awaiting trial on charges of kidnaping and an attempted statutory offense against 14-year-old Constance Teach, of 1575 Linden Way, Long Beach.

The girl, accompanied by Mary Ellen Hill, also 14 and a resident of the beach city, was hiking on Sturtevant Trail last Thursday, and nearing the camp they met Stump coming downtrail. He walked with the girls to the camp, then asked them to come into his room. When they refused, he grabbed Constance and carried her in. According to the sheriff's office report he then removed part of her clothing, stating he would not harm her if she would kiss him. At last he let her dress and go outdoors. Her companion, Mary Ellen, had gone for help.

Chief of Police McMillan and Deputies McGowan and Skarland of the Temple City sub-station investigated the case, and Stump was put under $500 bail by Justice of the Peace Sturgeon in Monrovia. The two girls were vacationing with friends on Woodland Drive in this city.

Patriotic Hall Is Now Proposed For Ross Field Park

At the request of the sponsors of the proposed Ross Field Golf course, the local Chamber of Commerce at its next meeting will take action to consider the pros and cons of the matter, and next month the San Gabriel Valley Associated Chambers of Commerce will likewise take a stand on the matter.

In the meantime a petition is being circulated in Arcadia by one Elmer E. Swanson, asking the Board of Supervisors to provide the proposed public park with the following: An administration building, patriotic hall, swimming pool and dressing rooms, a five acre children's playground, baseball field, football field, tennis and handball courts, horse shoe pitching courts, a 15-acre picnic grounds.

Small Cut In City Tax Rate Is Possible

Assessed Valuation Of Property Here Shows Gain For First Time In Years

Showing a quarter of a million dollar gain over last year's figures, Sierra Madre's 1935 property valuations released this week by the county auditor's office appear to give the City Council a chance to hammer down next year's tax rate at the budget meeting to be held Wednesday night. The total valuation against which the tax levy of 1935-36 will be assessed is $2,604,520, compared with $2,349,455 in 1934.

Although the greater portion of the increase is directly due to the addition of $222,045 in public utilities property, there were also small increases in land values and improvements. For the past several years such values have been on a continual downgrade.

The city stands to lose in the neighborhood of $1,600 in automobile taxes, because of the new law transferring the proceeds of this levy to the State, but this is more than compensated for in the approximate $2,500 yield of the new local utilities tax.

County Auditor Payne's official tabulation, with last year's comparative amounts, show some gain to have been made in all items with the exception of stocks and notes values and monies. The detail in valuation fixed by the assessors and approved by the Supervisors sitting as a board of equalization, follows:

Value of Land	1,311,090
Value of Improvements	1,032,010
Personal Property	193,490
Money	550
Veterans Exemptions	154,865
Net Valuations exclusive of Public Utilities	2,382,475
Public Utilities	222,045
Total Net Valuation	$2,604,520
Assessors Collection on Unsecured Personal Property	534
Value of Stocks, Notes, etc.	610,230
Value of Solvent Credits	227,250

Dorothy Pratt And Son Of Ole Hanson Are Married Here

Miss Dorothy Pratt, charming young daughter of Mrs. R. A. Pratt of 336 Sturtevant Drive, was married Monday noon to Eugene Field Hanson, son of Ole Hanson, real estate developer and brother of Ole Hanson, Jr. of Sierra Madre avenue. The ceremonies, attended only by the immediate families of the young couple, was performed by Rev. A. O. Pritchard on the lawn of the Pratt estate in Sierra Madre. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Arthur Pratt, of Beverly Hills, and the wedding march was played by Miss Moreland Kortcamp.

After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will live at his Laguna Beach home. The quiet wedding came somewhat as a surprise to friends, who had suspected an elopement.

McGroarty's Homecoming To Be Joyous

Over 5,000 Invitations Sent Out For Reception In Brookside Park Aug. 18

Congressman John Steven McGroarty, of this district, is to be honored at a great homecoming reception to be tendered him in Brookside Park, Pasadena, Sunday, August 18. Leading citizens and organizations of the various communities of the district have joined in preparations for the affair, which is to be entirely non-partisan in character, and 5,000 special invitations have been sent out.

The Townsend Old Age Pension Plan will be the chief theme of Mr. McGroarty's address, to be delivered at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. He will discuss other matters, however, relating his viewpoint on the inside and outside of Washington.

At 2 o'clock, according to the arrangement committee, a musical program will be rendered. This will include selections by a number of bands and entertainment by a large group of Mission Players.

Frank P. Doherty will be the master of ceremonies and Albert I. Stewart, president of the League of California Municipalities, will give the address of welcome on behalf of the Eleventh District. It is expected that Will Rogers will present Mr. McGroarty to the gathering.

Well-known citizens of 10 cities in the 11th District constitute the committee on arrangements. The Pasadena contingent is headed by Mayor E. O. Nay. Mrs. Grace B. Calkin is the Sierra Madre representative.

In Altadena, Gen. Charles S. Farnworth, William Davies, O. D. Hunt, Mrs. John Cardiff, Mrs. Frederick C. Marsh, Assemblyman F. G. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Grayson McCarty are making plans for the party.

Gilbert Skutt, Pasadena city park superintendent, is planning to have everything at the park in tip-top shape for the event, with extra chairs, a loud speaker and reserved tables for those who wish to picnic. Picnickers, however, will have "to bring their own," according to Mr. Skutt, but tables will be reserved up to 12:30 p.m., though earlier reservations are desired. Those wishing table reservations are asked to notify the park caretaker, W. F. Ford, Terrace 1947.

Electricity Not Free As Air, Finds Would-Be Filcher

Ninety days in the county jail was Harold Howell's lot for having attempted to steal his electricity. Judge Tom Neale imposed the sentence Tuesday after giving Howell a hearing.

Howell, who lives at 58 Carter avenue, thought he was safe in "cutting in" on the Edison Company's power line when the regular meter reading date had passed. His nemesis lay in the fact that this month the meter reader was three days late.

Support Of Bond Issue Is Advised

Assemblyman Martin Says Institutions Shamefully Overcrowded

Urging that voters in this area go to the polls on Tuesday, August 13 and make a special plea for the bond issue for enlargement of facilities for State prisons and insane hospitals, Assemblyman Frank G. Martin of this district, made the following appeal yesterday.

"I have heard considerable criticism that no break-down of the $13,950,000 bond issue has been made public from Sacramento. On Saturday I wired Frank C. Jordan, Secretary of State, to send me a copy of the official figures showing the items of proposed expenditures for each of the State institutions. I am giving this herewith.

"I am urging that these bonds be supported, because the State insane hospitals and the State prisons are shamefully overcrowded. To permit the deplorable conditions existing now to continue and to grow worse would be a disgrace to the government and to the people of California. Furthermore, the conditions in the State's prisons are making hardened criminals out of first offenders, and this is not only inhumane but is proving costly to the State in dollars and cents.

"Following is the itemized statement of the proposed expenditures on each institution affected by this proposed bond issue:

"Agnews State Hospital, $870,000; Medocino State Hospital, $705,000; Napa State Hospital, $580,000; Stockton State Hospital, $1,049,500; Camarillo State Hospital, $3,125,000; Patton State Hospital, $700,000; Norwalk State Hospital, $130,000; Pacific Colony (for feeble minded children and narcotics) $765,500; Sonoma State Home, $575,000; New Prison in Southern California, $3,500,000. Total $12,000,000.

"The figures for Camarillo State Hospital, $3,125,000, involves practically the building of a new hospital at Camarillo, Ventura County, some eighty miles from Los Angeles; as designed, this will give a total of 3,196 beds which will make it possible to relieve overcrowding at Patton and Norwalk.

"The proposed additions to the Stockton State Hospital, to cost $1,049,500, will provide 960 additional beds; this with additions to the other hospitals in the north should relieve much of the crowding up there.

"The new prison in Southern California as designed, will start with 1200 beds. The cost, including the site is estimated at $3,500,000.

"The additions to all the institutions will make 11,305 more beds available.

"It will be noted that the proposed outlays are pretty fairly divided as between Northern and Southern California.

"The other two proposals on the ballot are: additions to Los Angeles State building, $1,000,000; additions two wings, State Capitol, Sacramento, $950,000; total bond issue, $13,950,000."

Swimming, Tennis Dinner And Dance Feature Carnival

Swimming and tennis are the activities which will open the Carnival given by the Young People's Society of the Congregational Church which is being held at the gardens of the N. W. Tarr estate on West Montecito today, at 2:30 p.m. The proceeds of the carnival will be used to send delegates to the summer camp at Big Pines.

A dinner will be served at 6 p.m. after which there will be several reels of motion pictures and dancing will follow.

Frank Vanes orchestra has been secured for the dancing. A small admission charge will be made, in addition to the price of the dinner, but anyone with a dinner ticket will be allowed to swim all afternoon. The public is cordially invited and may secure tickets from any member, or purchase them at the gate.

Barbara Hollingsworth is in charge of the swimming party, while Lloyd Tarr will be in charge of the motion pictures. Cynthia Hull is general chairman, and Dorothy Walsworth will supervise the serving of the dinner, with Weston Senour in charge of the bus boys.

Observations

By Lee Shippey

I'M awfully worried about the "Soak the Rich" plan. The idea that the poor fellows who make $50,000 a year or more are going to be taxed more, breaks my heart. . . . And the poor holding companies, organized for the purpose of breaking the law legally, I weep for them, too. My mother and sisters had to leave Sierra Madre because money invested in Associated Gas and Electric bonds was lost, and all the time the holding company was making millions! What a shame it would be to break up honest enterprise like that! However, we still have a fine climate in Sierra Madre, so I'll not worry too much.

Errors Not Recorded In This Game

Local Kiwanis Clubmen Defeat Ontario In Wild Diamond Engagement

It was wild and wooly baseball which kept the bleachers in hysterics and the players out of breath, as a team of Sierra Madre Kiwanis club members edged out the Ontario Kiwanians 8-7 here Tuesday evening.

Wave Pratt pitched for the local clubmen, retired the first three men to face him in the first inning. Jim Heasley got hit on the head by a wild ball in the same frame, but the ball had a tough hide and so the game went merrily on. In the third Whatman Woehler lifted his mighty bat to pole out a double and chase in two runs, then in the fifth this same man-of-might socked a home run to score Iron Wing Pratt who had previously gotten to second base on account of a two base hit.

Heasley, probably still under the influence of the knock on the head, made a most spectacular catch in the sixth, turning a complete somersault but retaining the pill in his mit while describing the circle.

Frank Spencer held the bat like an ice-cream scoop, to collect zero hits and just that many runs. Johnnie Spoelstra, Willie Middough and Doc Peterson distinguished themselves in a similar manner. But they all had a swell time—and won the old ball game.

Practically the full membership of the Ontario Kiwanis club with the ladies, came with the ball team and put on an excellent exhibition of rooting. Some members of both teams had never been on a baseball diamond before and most of the players hadn't caught a ball in many years. But that made the game enjoyable if the players were stiff and sore the next day.

The scorer lost track of the errors.

Survey Shows Rate For Electricity Here Low In State

Sierra Madre's electricity rates are shown to be among the second lowest in California, by the Federal Power Commission's Electric Rate Survey made public this week. For 25 kilowatt-hours, a typical bill of $1.25 is had by this city, Belvedere, El Segundo, El Monte, Hermosa Beach, San Marino, Signal Hill and Wilmar. The Soldier's Home in Sawtelle is lowest in the state, with a $1.20 rate.

No Protest Filed, So School Board Adopts Its Budget

With none present to protest any item of expenditure listed in its budget for the next school year, the Sierra Madre school board met at the public grammar school Tuesday evening and officially adopted the schedule of expenses. Calling for a total expenditure of $49,112, the budget as adopted tops that of last year by slightly over $500.

City Revives Plan To Pave All Streets Here With Liberal Support From WPA

Project Promises Jobs For Many Local Men Over Period Of Year Or More

WITHIN a week petitions will be started in circulation throughout the city offering property owners an unparalleled opportunity of securing pavement, curbing and sidewalk on every street in Sierra Madre at a cost cheaper by far than any hitherto possible. City engineers and Business Manager Al S. Myers today are completing the first street project plans for early submission to the Works Progress Administration, out of whose four billion dollar funds will come at least 74 percent of the money necessary to carry on the work.

Recognizing the fact that there is urgent need existing in the Nation's small towns, WP Administrator Harry L. Hopkins lends bright hopes to this city's street improvement program by this statement, recently released:

"One of the main features of the program to take care of the rural unemployed who were on relief rolls as of May, 1935, will be an extensive road building program. A substantial portion of the $4,000,000,000 Works Program allotment will be spent for this purpose."

Hopkins makes clear the fact that the municipalities themselves must bear at least a small portion of the cost of work projects, even though the cost is a mere 25 percent of the total cost. No Federal funds are to be made available to cities trying to "ride along" on government beneficence, he declares—hence the extreme importance of securing the support of property owners, who are being offered the rare opportunity of securing complete improvements for only the actual cost of material.

Apparently the work relief administration is having a difficult time finding enough worthwhile projects to absorb the large sums awaiting genuine work projects unrelated to the dole jobs recently come into disrepute with the Administration. This fact, according to Myers, speaks well for such cities as Sierra Madre, prepared to submit a comprehensive, workable program.

Under Assemblyman Frank Martin's State bill providing for street work being carried on minus excessive red tape by sixth class cities, the petitions must be signed by 80 percent of the property owners, owning more than 50 percent of the frontage. The extremely low cost now possible is expected to greatly facilitate petition circulator's work.

Under the plan the complete cost to the owner of a fifty-foot lot, for street paving, curb and five-foot sidewalk, will be only $32.30—as compared with $145.90 which was the average cost to the property owner with similar lot frontage in the past under the general street improvement law. The estimated cost under the Martin law is $8.32 for street pavement, compared to the former average charge of $76.27; 12.67 for curbing, compared to $27.13, and $11.10 for sidewalk, compared with $42.50.

There are slightly over four miles of unpaved streets in the city which will be paved in the event the W.P.A. approves the projects and the petitions encounter no serious obstacles. The entire program will take approximately a year's time, furnishing employment for a great number of men. At present it has not been decided through what agencies employment will be contracted, although there is a good possibility that the County Employment Coordinating Bureau will sign workers. This Bureau recently has established a branch in the Sierra Madre City Hall.

New Faces In Chairs Of The Legion Post

Walter Gregory was elected second vice-commander of the local Legion post Monday night, winning from M. P. Livingston on the only contested spot on the ballot. The other posts were officially filled by the balloting as a matter of form, although were contested.

Russell Lovejoy was elected Post Commander, Lloyd B. Welsh first vice-commander; Colin Hill sergeant at arms; Roy H. Pickett chaplain; Herbert Mangham, historian, and Samuel Graham finance officer. The executive committee includes James A. Irvine, M. P. Livingston, W. H. Schwartz, Roy H. Pickett, Henry M. Olsen, and Colin Hill.

Only three local delegates will represent Sierra Madre at the State Legion Convention in Fresno, August 11, 12 and 13. They are Samuel Graham, William Schwartz and Russell Lovejoy, who will leave here early Sunday morning.

Amendments To Be Voted On Tuesday

Bond Issue And Authorization Of Short Term Bonds Is Sought

There will be seven polling places in Sierra Madre for next Tuesday's Statewide election at which the voters will pass upon three proposals submitted to the electorate by the Legislature.

Proposition No. 1 proposes a bond issue of $13,500,000 for additions to State institutions. Proposition No. 2 would permit the issuance of short term bonds by the State to clean up the $28,000,000 deficit, and No. 3 provides $900,000 for a dam in Hector canyon to provide water for the Napa State hospital and farm.

Voters will be asked to decide upon the proposal to issue $13,950,000 in bonds for the purpose of enlarging State hospitals, asylums and prisons, and constructing a penitentiary in Southern California. The building program also will provide for addition of wings to the State Capitol building and the State building in Los Angeles.

Approval of the bond issue would empower the State to seek

City To Have Seven Polling Places For Election Tuesday

Seven polling places will be open in Sierra Madre on Tuesday for the special State election, but the County Registrar has made provision for each precinct station to be manned by only three election officers instead of the customary six. The only place to be changed is Precinct No. 7, which is located at 527 Woodland Drive instead of on Sturtevant Drive as formerly. Following is the complete list of polling places and officers:

Precinct No. 1: Polling place, residence—47 West Grand View, Inspector, H. A. N. Addis; Judge, Ora A. Caskey; Clerk, Bertha Irvine.

Caukin Gets Word From Washington Of Appointment

R. O. Caukin this week was notified of his permanent appointment as Postmaster of Sierra Madre, Senate confirmation having been given his temporary appointment on July 29. The technical transfer of status will not take place for a week or two, it is stated.

Almost Magical Growth Of Townsend Old Age Pension Organization Is Reviewed At Meeting Of The Local Club

Unvarnished facts were ably discussed by Dr. Willis Owen, statistician and business analyst, before the recent Townsend President's meeting in Los Angeles and detailed to the local Townsend group by Mrs. M. R. MacDowell on Monday evening.

Dr. Owen is one of those clear thinkers who can make rapid-fire deductions as he goes along. For example, in looking at his own shoes he said: "These cost me the sum of $4.65; under the Townsend Plan they would be just 35 cents higher. If the Biltmore Hotel were sold for six million dollars, there would be a $125,000 transaction tax." He recently purchased a bottle of medicine for $1.15 to which was added a sales tax of four cents. This tax would disappear under the Townsend Plan, he said.

"But it is undeniably true that we are fighting the hardest political battle in the world," he continued, "for the tax dodgers know the Townsend Plan will reach them, and they are doing everything in their power to circumvent its enactment. Actions speak louder than words and right will ultimately prevail, however. When people willingly sacrifice the vital things of life, as they are doing every day to see this measure through, we know that the dawn of success is not far away."

An outstanding example of initiative and energy in the ranks was the banquet given on July 30 by Club No. 33 in Los Angeles. The president cleverly enlisted the interest of a long list of merchants and business men who cooperated to the fullest. With their assistance, an original and really sumptuous dinner was served in the McCarthy Memorial Church. Other instances of vigor have been apparent up and down the coast. Sacramento reports a drive for new members which started the 20th of May and extended to the 3rd of July and netted 25,000 members for the capital city.

One "star" member of 65 years old modestly turned in a quota of 442 Townsendites! Sierra Madre's contribution to the growth of the movement this summer has been a substantial and brilliant one, we think, in the presentation of George C. Clighley to the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday. The appearance of this popular and dynamic speaker before the leading business men of Sierra Madre was virtually a "scoop" for the local Townsend Club.

Attention is being concentrated upon the mass meeting and all-day picnic at Hindenburg Park on Sunday, August 18, at which Dr. F. E. Townsend will speak. Reservations for the barbecue dinner should be made at once. The program includes outside of the Father of the Plan, such speakers as George C. Clighley, Paul J. Lichtenfels, Max E. Socha, Chief White Eagle, and Walter Thomas Mills, in addition to Judge A. Clarence Routh, and Melville R. Lewis. And California's poet-laureate, John Steven McGroarty! So bring a friend to this picnic and help show these leaders of the movement that their efforts in our behalf are appreciated.

San Gabriel Dam Work Is Starting Up Under New Plan

Revised plans and specifications for San Gabriel Dam No. 1 were in the hands of State Engineer Edward Hyatt at Sacramento this week for formal approval, and construction work was legally but not actually underway after expensive months of Supervisory investigation and delay. Since the dam site is in the Federal forest area, Supervisor William Mendenhall, of the Angeles National Forest Service, must also approve the present plans.

Chief Engineer C. H. Howell, who was in charge of revising the project, estimates the cost of the new structure at $1,003,570, and sets the new completion date at December 1, 1939. The flood control office reports that there are still $11,521,700 available from the $25,000,000 bond issue voted some years ago.

The Board of Supervisors compromised for $289,985 on claim of the West Slope Construction Company contractors for $830,000 damages occasioned by suspension of operation November 13, last.

IN YOUR GARDEN

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS CONCERNING THE GARDEN

By Jessie Ward Russell

Q. My Ceanothus shrub [wild lilac] is turning yellow and dying back at the tips. What is wrong with it?

A. It is getting too much water. It is a native shrub, and is used to growing with very little moisture.

Q. Will it hurt privet and cypress hedges to be pruned during hot weather?

A. No, prune them any time, but also see that they are irrigated so that they will not burn up from being too dry.

Q. Can Calla Lilies be dug now and separated?

A. No, wait until fall, when they will be more or less dormant. When you divide them, cut off all foliage.

Q. Can Avocado Trees be fertilized now?

A. Yes, it is a good policy to apply commercial fertilizers such as ammonophos, sulphate of ammonia, blood meal or fish meal on the trees every month or two and also keep the trees well mulched with leaves, or any vegetable matter, or barnyard manures.

Q. Do Cocos Plumosa Palms need much watering?

A. Yes, if you want them to grow. Also they like fertilizer.

Q. Our trailing Lantana on the parking is getting leggy, and is not blooming as freely as it did. What can we do to make it look better?

A. Cut it way back almost to the crown and flood the ground with water. The Lantanas will soon break into new growth. Do not let the ground become too dry. Lantanas will grow fast during the hot weather but they must have plenty of water.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

THIS is one night that all the members of the fire department look forward to. A firemen's meeting can be relied upon to supply the mind with plenty of relaxation. There are many problems that require much seriousness, but when these are out of the way, one is assured that he will soon have something to laugh about.

The dry season is here to stay for a long time and this means that we must be careful. Too much caution can not be used with the fires. When in the mountains be fire conscious. If one will think how easily the brush of the mountains will catch fire, he will not carelessly throw a lighted cigarette from a car or drop a match without first being certain it is out. It is thought that sun rays shining on glass will create sufficient heat to ignite the dry tinder. Do not throw empty bottles or broken glass into the brush. Many of these are found by firemen and carried away by them to prevent fires.

Don't take that long chance, think of the hills afire.

Don't ever light a fire in prohibited areas.

Don't think that you are an exception, your cigarette will burn as much as the other fellow's.

Don't be the one to say, "I didn't know it was dangerous."

That is a poor excuse. Don't make a bon-fire in the back yard without getting the fire chief's permission. He will look it over or have someone do it. Don't think that because we haven't had a fire for a long time that we are immune from them. Let's keep the Fire's Out.

ALASKAN BEAUTIES TOLD BY SIERRA MADRE SAILOR ABOARD U.S.S. PORTLAND ON NAVY CRUISE

Towering Mt. McKinley And Majestic Glaciers Are Awe Inspiring

Editor's Note: This first hand account of the Navy's recent Alaskan trip was mailed to THE NEWS from Seattle on arrival in the northern port last Thursday. The writer who claims Sierra Madre as his home and is a brother-in-law of Jack Hosford, is electrician's mate, third class, aboard the U.S.S. Portland.)

By WILBUR CLAYTON

WE weighed anchor at Long Beach at 9 a.m. June 29, and got underway for Tacoma—our 4th of July port. The trip was uneventful except for the fact that we hit some of the roughest weather ever encountered by the good ship Portland. However, as we were headed dead into it, all the ship did was pitch, rolling very little. We took waves over our bow continually, and sometimes even over No. 2 turret, which is 40 feet above the water line.

The ship settled down to an even keel when we entered Puget Sound. After five days in Tacoma, we went out to sea for tactical maneuvers with part of the scouting force cruisers. Then, after enjoying a four-day rest in Seattle, we pulled anchor again and headed for Alaska. It rained most of the time, or was just foggy—bad weather, although the water was smooth. It was so foggy some of the time that fish were seen swimming above the surface of the sea!

On the night of July 20 we saw land, and anchored. No one knew exactly where we were, as we hadn't sighted sun or star for the past 48 hours. A Yukon freighter passed us, and we were going to get underway and follow her into port. Unfortunately we discovered she was going in the wrong direction. Then the next morning the fog lifted, and we steamed into Valdez, a small Alaskan mining town of about 200 population located at one tip of the great Columbia Glacier. It is surrounded by dikes to keep it from being washed into the sea when the snows melt.

Valdez is famous in Alaska because it has a woman mayor. We were told that the weather had been "warm" for the past couple weeks, and water falls and streams in abundance could be seen rushing down the sides of the mountains that rise above the bay. The natives may have considered the weather warm, but it didn't seem so to us. I considered it to be about three blankets cold—and I possess only two!

One of the boys asked an old grey bearded fellow how long it had been raining in Valdez. He replied that he'd only lived there for "nigh onto fifty years," so we'd have to ask someone else.

The Chamber of Commerce (?) gave a dance in our honor, and about 120 of the Portland's crew attended. We asked one of them, when he returned to the ship how many girls had been at the dance and he said there were 28. A shipmate said that he was drunk and seeing double.

Clearing the bay on the morning of the 23rd, we headed for Seward, another small town about 147 miles further up the coast. On our way we detoured to take in the Columbia Glacier, which is called a living glacier because it is constantly moving. This is the most beautiful glacier in the world accessible by ship, is 34 miles long and over a mile thick in places. We figured vibration would probably cause something to happen so we fired the saluting battery and blew the steam whistle.

The sound echoed and echoed for about three minutes, then there were a number of ice slides along the outer edge of the glacier. Everyone was utilizing field glasses, telescopes and cameras, and it was the most stupendous view I've ever seen.

Reluctantly we left this amazing and awe inspiring panorama and continued on our way to Seward, arriving there that evening. Seward is located at the end of the southern branch of the Great Alaskan Railway, and the line leads to Fairbanks. Anchorage is the only town of any size close to Seward, and a special train was hired to take our liberty party there. On the trip we could see the Miles and Childs Glacier, the Spencer Glacier, and the grand snow capped peak of Mt. McKinley, towering 20,000 feet above sea level.

If a person worked from daylight until dark up there I'm afraid he wouldn't get much rest.

Nisei CE Society Will Have A Picnic

JACK JENSEN gave the message at our monthly meeting at the Pasadena rescue mission. Brother Merrill, Mary Sheriff, Dot Cox, Myrtle Wood, Bill Edwards, Sam Hohri and C. J. List were there, too. The group went up to Dot's home afterwards to partake of her excellent sherbet and Myrtle's equal status cake.

Seems the Smith brothers who have been at Mt. Hermon this past week, like the Bay district so much that they're staying there for another week. But they'll be back for the Tahquitz Pines conference which opens next Saturday.

Nip society's social head, Shiz Kunihiro, says there'll be a party for this group at Glendora this coming Friday. The details are too wrapt up in the fog yet.

By Henry Ivins Hancock

SOLOMON, or someone, once offered to swap his kingdom for a new thrill. The yen for thrills is apparently as old as that of humanity itself. In our sister art colony, at Laguna, they have developed a brand new sort of thrill. The Lagunaites are incidentally trying to turn a liability into an asset intended to defy the high cost of living.

Far be it from us to malign our fellow artists in that neck of the woods, but facts are facts. Here is the story as related to us by a native: Several Sundays ago the Snakeatorium at Laguna served (or offered to serve) cooked rattle snakes and to inspire a more thrilling appetite for the "delicacy," the rattlers were skinned and prepared right before the customers (a couple of ughs says we).

We have nothing but best wishes for the success of our sister city's infant industry and in that Laguna apparently is amply supplied with the necessary raw material—free for the getting—the sale of snake snacks should show a hundred percent profit.

Last week we made a plea for the donation of funds to cover the cost of paying for professional models at the Art League. As we stated it will cost about $20 a month to cover this cost. Were our community, by chance—or mischance—as bountifully supplied as is the neighboring art colony, we might be able to open a snake delicatessen shoppe and reap sufficient funds to guarantee the Art League professional model overhead.

The Sierra Madre News!

We had to wait until nearly 10 o'clock to show deck movies, and it got light at 1 a.m.

At Seward mail left the ship for the first time since we weighed anchor at Seattle. On the 26th we left Anchorage and headed for Auke Bay. That sounds like pig-Latin the way it is pronounced. Auke is an extremely picturesque bay, 10 miles from Juneau and accessible by highway to that city. In the summer there is regular bus service maintained, and with special liberty granted a group of us made the trip.

Within five miles from where we were anchored in Auke Bay is the Mendenhall Glacier, which covers an area of more than 600 square miles. Some of us walked out there one afternoon, sight-seeing and picture hunting. Another very beautiful sight was Auke Lake, once a part of the glacier and now fed by the ice melting. In the summertime, as when we witnessed it, the ice and the flowers meet.

There stood this mighty glacier of solid ice, hundreds of feet thick—and growing within a few score yards of it were countless Alaskan wild flowers.

Midnight, July 29, we left Auke Bay and headed South, arriving in Seattle August 1st to participate in Fleet Week. Our next port is San Francisco, and from there we go to San Diego to take part in the Fleet Review being held in conjunction with the exposition.

GRAND CANYON

OF INDUSTRY...RIGHT IN YOUR OWN BACK YARD

IN LONG BEACH, California, there is a particular building. In it is a chasm 100 feet deep. The walls are a series of boilers which generate the steam necessary to turn giant turbines capable of developing hundreds of thousands of horsepower...It is called the "Grand Canyon of Industry," built to provide additional horsepower as a supplement to an already important hydro-electric system.

Electric power is the life-blood of modern existence. If, for any reason, the flow of electricity should stop, or even be reduced, our whole world would be thrown into chaos. Foods would spoil for lack of refrigeration...our factories would be still...our streets and homes unlighted...street cars would not run...irrigation of crops would be hampered.

And for this the Edison Company super steam plant was built. Its potential output is in excess of the normal demand. Combined with the hydro-electric plants we are prepared for any emergency. The mere fact that your electrical equipment is connected to our lines is your assurance of constant, abundant and low-cost power.

ANGLES

By Jerry W. Jones

THERE has been much discussion about husband or wife
not having enough interest in each other. I heard a heated argument on the subject. The temperature ran way up; I should say about 110 or perhaps 120 Fahrenheit. In this particular case, it happened the head of the family wished his wife to take a little more interest in him. I would suggest that he be seen with another woman and I am sure he would soon be the object of her affections—or something. Naturally this could work in either case, as is sometimes does. But before resorting to such a cure I would suggest,
be sure the third party is single.

Here is a question that seems to be very popular. The headlines are full of it, the radios are full of it and in case you are not quite full of it, I will try to help a bit, with this bill called "Soaking-the-Rich." Some poor people have tried to alter the name to "Soaking-the-Thrifts." I wonder if they want sympathy or what? Well, if some can give it a new name, so can I. I call it "Soaking-the-Soakers." After all, soaking is the method by which riches are acquired. Anyway, how in the he-ck can the "Soaking-the-Soakers" Bill go over. I don't think it's practical.
Just imagine, breaking new men
in on old jobs.

gency, according to the announcement yesterday of Fred B. Lewis, vice president and general manager of the company. Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz and key men of his organization, with Mr. Lewis and other officials and engineers of the Edison Company, following Mr. Lewis' announcement inspected the Edison communication center where the installation of facilities for emergency communication service to the sheriff's office in the Hall of Justice in Los Angeles and all sheriff's sub-stations in the county have been completed by Edison engineers.

The establishment of the communication system reinforcing the sheriff's office commercial lines, radio and State-wide teletype system shortly follows the acceptance by Sheriff Biscailuz of the Edison Company's offer to place the full resources of the company at the immediate disposal of the sheriff's department for emergency use. Complete lists of all of the company's mobile equipment, including trucks, tractors, hoists, acetylene welding and cutting outfits and portable machine shops, have been listed and their locations charted. Lists and charts are on file at the sheriff's headquarters in the Hall of Justice and at each of the 10

sheriff's substations in the county.

In the operation of the Edison private telephone facilities as an emergency unit of the sheriff's office communication system, each of the 72 Edison commercial offices and each of the company's 251 electrical transmission and distribution substations becomes a point of telephone contact between Sheriff Biscailuz' headquarters and the ten sheriff's substations. The disaster relief plan also provides for the immediate establishment of telephone contacts over the Edison system
to and from any sheriff's headquarters that might be set up in an emergency.

"The completeness and efficiency of the Edison Company's communication system presents an astonishing revelation of the results of scientific research and rugged construction," Sheriff Biscailuz said yesterday. "The county of Los Angeles is fortunate indeed to have the facilities of the company at its service as a reinforcement of existing communication services. The alignment of the county's protective forces with the Edison Company is this plan for any disaster
emergency relief is a far-sighted
project of inestimable value."

LEGAL NOW TO WIRE
BETS TO RACE TRACK

Legalized wire betting to racetracks was made a reality this week as Governor Merriam signed the bill sanctioning the practice. During the last meeting at Santa Anita, wire bets were attempted at the track, but Attorney General Webb ruled it illegal.

Although the new act will increase the betting at the track,
it will knock the bookmakers out of long-shot wagers and figures to cut down the gate at the San Francisco plants as northern fans are more interested in betting than in witnessing the races.

PEN
SLANTS

By John Copeland

I THINK that Harry Stephen Keeler is the same master mind who invented "Plotto," or some similar system for turning out fiction plots. Anyhow, he's responsible for articles on how to write mystery stuff—at the very least he has written an article entitled "How I Write Successful Mystery Stories."

This is some buildup, when you sit down to read a Keeler book.
Especially one called "The Riddle
of the Travelling Skull." It should have been named "A Study in Coincidence." Really, it shouldn't have been named at all,
but merely filed as Plot A-2, No.
15. Mr. Keeler ought to read much less Dashiell Hammet, or much more. And not take so many algebra books to bed with him at night.

Doc Peterson says that a baby was fed elephant milk for the first year of its life, and weighed in at 60 pounds at the end of that time. Mrs. Dionne must have taken to using rabbit cream in her coffee.

DEFINITION . . . "Soak-the-Thrifts"—Hearstese coined to denote unfair taxation of those landedfreefortunates who have managed to scrimp and save their pennies until their little tin
banks rattle to the tune of dinky million bucks.

"Cope" Copenhaver got back
from his annual High Sierra fishing trip a few days ago, accompanied by Mrs. Cope, a new ignition switch and a sheep.

Somewhere in the depths of a northern lake Cope's key ring lies. He lost it and had to pack out 14 miles to a garage after an unsuccessful try at getting his car door open and the ignition on.

As for the sheep. They met up with a French sheep herder in the higher altitudes, and befriended him with jam and other unaccustomed delicacies. So on the day of departure he arrived at camp with a whole lamb, freshly skinned and dressed, and filled with ice from an overnight
freeze.

Emile Smith says I got that all wrong about his team itching to get at Fuller's team. He president. The other offices being appointive, the others will be announced later. Sarah Nash, department chaplain, and Ernestine Aylward, past department president, were among the guests present.

At County Council in Patriotic Hall on Friday the installation of the new officers by Beatrice Trumbull proved to be a very pleasant affair. Units which were represented by a member as officer presented bouquets of beautiful flowers.

Mr. Don Claflin of the service bureau spoke briefly, explaining some of their rules and promised at the first of the year hospitalization will be easier at Sawtelle and San Fernando.

Edna Prow is planning for the 18th district convention delegates to wear hats alike, painted blue,
with our name and unit number in plain view. A meeting in the form of a pot luck picnic lunch at her home on Clark street in El Monte will be held this week in order to prepare the hats for convention. We will all sit together and hope to also "stick"
together, getting over the things which we hope to have passed.

Mrs. Pearl De Lapp was unanimously elected to the office of 18th district president with Vera Orvis victorious as first vice-didn't want his name mentioned, he only wanted me to put my neck in a sling by provoking

Louis Fuller into some challenge matches.

I think it would be a dandy idea to come out from behind the impersonal "we," "it is said,"
"they say, etc., in future Slants.
Hereafter if you want to say something about somebody, and it doesn't reek too much, it'll be run with full credits given.
Howzat for fearless journalism?
—or something.

Still time to see the Little Gallery's July-August exhibit of hometown art . . .

Already the gee-gees may be heard in the distance, pounding toward Santa Anita. The country's four biggest stables have pledged intention of coming here
this winter. C. V. Whitney, Greentree, Baroni and Alger have definitely sent word they're coming, and Vanderbilt is known to be putting a lot of faith on Dis-covery's chances to snag the big handicap money.

Under contract to Whitney are Coucci, Workman and A. Robertson, three of the best horse pilots in the business. Anyone strong willed enough to stick by the three of 'em through the year might find himself ahead of the game. (H-m-m, and wasn't there a boy named Wolf riding out here once?)

Arcadia, thou ficklest of utopias, how could'st thou stoop to such as this!

In a chamberofcommerce stunt,
our neighboring village prints a map with ARCADIA in type like that and Pasadena in type like this. Conspicuous by her absence is Sierra Madre, nestling between Lowe and Wilson like the invisible man.

Canned orange juice is a boon to campers, who may joy in the news that the fresh tang and flavor is retained by a quick process used now.

Ice cream and gingerbread is now a favorite summer combination.

Amendments To Be Voted On Tuesday

approximately $10,000,000 in Federal funds which, added to the amount obtained from the sale of bonds, would provide $24,000,000 for the extensive building program.

Officials point out that this would serve the double purpose of relieving unemployment and providing adequate facilities in State institutions which now are seriously overcrowded.

Adoption of the amendment authorizing the State's borrowing money in anticipation of taxes and revenues would permit an important saving in interest now paid on registered warrants which are issued in lieu of cash to pay the State's bills. The $28,000,000 deficit accumulated during the past four years could be retired gradually, financial experts believe, if business conditions continue improving in the future.

According to the arguments issued by Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state, "ample safeguards are placed around such borrowings. Not more than 50 per cent of the amount of all taxes and revenues paid into the general fund during the preceding fiscal year may be borrowed by the State and all such borrowings must be repaid within one year. Savings in interest charges alone would amount to more than $1,500,000 in the next two years."

Over 17 Million Put Into Circulation For Water Employees

That membership in the Metropolitan Water District has brought direct employment benefits totaling $17,392,150 to the citizens of 13 Southern California cities was revealed today in a Colorado River Aqueduct construction report issued from the office of General Manager F. E. Weymouth of the District.

The figures cover Water District employment records between November 1, 1932, and June 30, 1935, and represent wages paid to District citizens employed directly by the Water District and those employed on Colorado River Aqueduct work by Water District contractors. During the period named, the number of employees on the project increased from 286 to 8,833.

It is pointed out that the aqueduct construction program is scheduled to be accelerated greatly in the fall, resulting in a heavy increase in employment.

Work on the project is under way along a 300-mile front, extending from the Colorado River as far west as Pasadena. Approximately 105 miles of tunnels are under construction or under contract, as well as more than 150 miles of canals, conduits, and siphons. By the end of the summer District engineers expect to launch construction of a huge power transmission line which ultimately will carry 35 per cent of all the electrical energy generated at Boulder Dam to the aqueduct line to be used for the operation of aqueduct pumps.

The report emphasized the fact that only bona fide citizens of the 13 member cities of the Water District are eligible for aqueduct jobs, either with the District directly or with the District's contractors.

Los Angeles Semi-Pro Team Easy For Kiwanis All-Stars

The Kiwanis sponsored city league All-Stars pulled a Brutus on the Coulter's of Los Angeles here Wednesday night, laying the visitors under by a score of 11 to 6. Coulter's tried to get along with their second string pitcher, saving their regular for a tough league game due the next night. The Kiwanians got off to a good start, scoring four times in the first innings. Kiggins pitched steady ball, issuing no passes and limiting the hits to no more than one per inning except in the fourth when the invaders connected for three in a row. One Mr. Hawkins was the only batter to get Kiggins' range, getting a double and a triple out of three hits.

Evans and Marsh were the heaviest stick wielders for the locals, Newt getting three hits in four times up including a two bagger, and Earl two out of five, one of which was a triple.

New Pirates Lick Braves In First Go

City League Second Half Underway; Triple Play Features First Game

It still looks like Pirate weather, despite Jack Brain's drastic City League shakeup. Monday night, in the first tilt of the new half, Wes Perry shut out the rejuvenated Braves, 7-0. Flashy catches and thrilling plays were about evenly distributed between the new teams, with Perry's hurling standing out to settle the issue.

Phil Hedlund, playing his first game for the Braves, and against his former team-mates, staged a one-man exhibition in the second frame that proved to be the highlight of the game. McCarron walked Brain and Sanchez, the first two men to face him in the second. Then Wes Perry, next up, hit a terrific liner in the direction of second base. Headlund speared it, stepped on second before Brain, who was on his way to third could get back to the bag—then whipped the ball to first cutting off Sanchez's retreat to safety. Both players and fans gave him a good hand for the triple play.

Perry's shutout was the first of the year, and all three of the Perry brothers playing for the Pirates did themselves proud. But got four hits out of four trips to the plate, including two doubles. Brother Lawrence copped a homer for himself. Scalzo also socked out a home run, and Sanchez a double for the Pirates, while McCarron hit a triple for the only extra base hit gathered off Perry. There was a noticeable improvement in the general all-around play of the Braves.

The first half of the league season wound up last Thursday with the Cubs taking a fall out of the old Braves team, 16 to 1, and winding up the half in second place instead of in the cellar where they were the fore part of the year. LaLone held the Braves to three hits, but they managed to bunch two of 'em in the seventh inning, on a triple by Comis and a double by Ingram, to score their only run of the game. Both pitchers went wild, LaLone giving seven walks, and McCarron eight. However, LaLone's walks did no damage, while no less than five of McCarron's were converted into runs.

Pratt and Hill smacked out three-baggers, and O'Grady knocked two doubles to round out the long range hitting. ## Kiwanis Column

NOW that Charlie and "Cope" are back I guess we can proceed on a regular schedule, they being two of the wheel horses of our club. Charlie spent some time up on the north branch of the Feather River, also on the Scott River. We didn't hear any boasting about the size of the fish caught, however.

"Cope" and his party went on up north of Bridgeport and packed back some 14 miles. He reported plenty of snow—no close neighbors to annoy him with a radio. A few coyotes, deer and a small bear were the only neighbors. O yes, a French sheep header wandered into the region occupied by "Cope." We learned in a round-about way that "Cope" attempted to learn the art of herding sheep but gave it up as a bad job. He did, however, learn a lesson from his fellow herder friend. The old sheep was raising an orphan fawn on milk from his milk-goat.

Funny what these hot days will do, but having accepted the challenge from Ontario Club for a baseball game, we proceeded to equip ourselves with borrowed bats, gloves and show the Ontario boys up, which we did, 8 to 7.

Waverly's pitching may have had something to do with it, or

Awards For Local Boys At District Court Of Honor

Gale Hersey, son of Col. and Mrs. H. B. Hersey, was presented with his Life Scout degree and three merit badge awards at the joint Sierra Madre-Alhambra Boy Scout Court of Honor held in Alhambra City Park Friday evening. A large crowd, including many Sierra Madrean parents and scouts, attended the Court, which was presided over by Tallman H. Trask, Chief Executive of the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley district.

Star Scout awards went to Ralph Hilbert and Norman Jensen, Jr., of Troop No. 1, while second class badges were pinned on the uniforms of Andrew Adams and Gail Howard. Ralph Hilbert qualified for merit badges in pathfinding, swimming and first aid. Norman Jensen took merit awards for his work in first aid, reading, metal work, pathfinding and public health, while Gale Hersey qualified for public health, athletics and pathfinding.

Arcadia Joins Plea For Improvement Of Orange Grove Ave.

Urging the Board of Supervisors to lend aid in speeding plans for the Orange Grove avenue storm drain, City Engineer Glenn Watson, of Arcadia, this week wrote the board to the effect that the project was one of great concern to his city as well as to Sierra Madre.

"Several months ago a meeting was held, attended by members of the road department, Baldwin interests, division engineer of the Santa Fe Railroad, Arcadia and Sierra Madre city officials," the letter states. "This meeting was called with a view to improving Orange Grove avenue for drainage purposes from Sierra Madre avenue easterly to Little Santa Anita Wash in Arcadia.

"We feel this is a very important water diversion plan and the sooner the water is put into a natural channel, the less trouble we will have with our paved streets."

Donelans Buy Home On North Lima St.

Dr. and Mrs. James S. Donelan this week closed a deal for the purchase of the home at 334 North Lima street, which they have occupied since they moved to Sierra Madre. Dr. Donelan is assistant medical director of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, of California. They came to California five years ago and have lived at various places in and near Los Angeles. Two years ago they came to Sierra Madre and liked the city and its climate so well they decided to make this their permanent home.

Jack Woehler's home-run—even if he did fall on the catcher; or Peterson's batting, or Bill McDough's clean single, or Clarence's base stealing, or Jim's acrobatic stunts, or John's superb fielding in the ninth inning, which ended the game by his double play to second, or Fred Carlson's moral support in right field. Anyhow we found out after the game was over that Ontario thought they were to play the Kiwanis All-Stars. Good thing they didn't.

Rev. H. H. Hannaford introduced the speaker at our Tuesday session, George C. Highley, president of Los Angeles Townsend Club No. 93, largest club in Los Angeles if not U.S.A. He told us they have 325 clubs in L. A. County and some 850,000 members. Mr. Highley pointed out that the present relief system is inadequate, and is not attempting to be a self-supporting plan—that under the present plan the National and State deficit must continue to pile up—and that the only solution in sight is the Townsend Plan which, with a 2 percent transaction tax, will not only be self supporting but in the course of a few years, it will pay off our National debt.

DANGER OF FURTHER NEW TAX LEVIES ON COMMON PROPERTY WHEN LEGISLATURE MEETS

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the concluding article in a series of seven by Ralph H. Taylor, farm leader and recognized authority on problems of state government reviewing the work of California's VICE State Legislature and the governmental problems still pending.

By Ralph H. Taylor
 Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California

STILL seeking millions to make the wheels of State government go 'round, California's State Legislature will probably be called into extra session either in January or February of next year to determine on new tax sources to augment the huge tax fund of $368,000,000 already set-up for the ensuing two-year period.

For the most part, the funds to be raised at the special session will go to relief for the unemployment and destitute—the 1935 session having budgeted only $24,000,000 for this purpose, or about half the estimated requirements for the biennium.

But in addition to the new war chest for relief activities, there is also the possibility that the Legislature may be required to raise some extra millions for general government, dependent on the accuracy or inaccuracy of estimates of revenues to be derived from new sources tapped by the 1935 lawmaking session.

The session recently adjourned bolstered establishment revenue measures with new levies which it was generally estimated will yield additional income. But some of the State's financial wizards predict that actual cash income from new sources will fall approximately $20,000,000 short of estimates, necessitating action by next year's session to wipe out this shortage in addition to finding $24,000,000 more for relief purposes.

On the other hand, there is the "hope"—based on a possible pickup in business and industry, which would be reflected in their tax payments—that actual revenue will exceed the estimates, thereby reducing the added sum needed for relief. It was due, in fact, to this impossibility to forecast business conditions—and consequently state revenue conditions—that the final work of balancing the budget was left to next year's scheduled special session.

To the average taxpayer, attempting to gauge what the state will take from his business or his pocketbook, the all-important question is "What tax sources are left?" "Where will they look for the money?"

And perhaps the best index to the answer is to be found in the tax measures which were proposed at the 1935 session, but which failed of passage. Out of this group, in all probability, will come the new tax sources of 1936.

And here's the group:
 A State ad valorem, or general property tax. Based on a tax of 12 cents per $1000 valuation, a State property lev would raise approximately $18,000,000.

A severance tax on natural gas and oil (and perhaps on all natural resources, including gold and timber), which would raise from $20,000,000 upward, depending on rates.

An assortment of "nuisance taxes" and special levies, including taxes on tobacco, motion picture films, stock and bond transfers, consumer's utility bills, real estate transfers, new truck taxes, theatre admissions, and increased insurance taxes.

A real estate transfer tax, it is generally estimated, would yield some $6,000,000 for the two-year period, based on a rate of 1 per cent, and is rated in "the most probable" list of new levies. Barring a great gap between estimates and collections under the new tax acts already established, the real estate transfer tax—combined with either a state ad valorem, or a severance tax—would about raise the needed new revenue.

California taxpayers—farmers and common property owners especially—face the necessity of studying the pending tax proposals carefully during the intervening months before the special legislative session, if the property owner is to escape new and ruinous burdens.

A state property tax, once established, would be constantly subject to rate increases which would rapidly cancel the savings achieved under the Riley-Stewart Tax Relief Plan. And with the real estate transfer tax added, the common property owner
